Hi There, I'm

Gargi Sansanwal

Welcome to my portfolio of captivating digital experiences. Explore my work and let's create something extraordinary together.

About Me

I'm Gargi Sansanwal, a design enthusiast currently pursuing a Master's in Design at NIFT Bengaluru, with a background in Computer Science Engineering. My work lies at the intersection of UI/UX design, product design, research, branding, and sustainable systems. I focus on creating thoughtful, user-centered solutions that combine creativity with functionality. With a strong inclination towards innovation and environmental responsibility, I aim to design experiences and products that are both meaningful and impactful. Let's collaborate to build purposeful and inspiring solutions.
